Why people choose Bogmallo?

Bogmallo Beach Resort sports a mixture of serenity and commercialism, splashed with simple beauty where one can happily lose oneself. Initially Bogmalo in Goa was a fishing village until tourists started pouring in and discovered the tranquillity and charm of this beautiful arch shaped beach. Despite modern eating joints, hi-tech shops selling handicrafts surrounding it, the village at Bogmalo still manages to maintain its authenticity. The beach comparatively to other beaches in North Goa like Calangute, Anjuna, Vagator etc. is not very crowded and the water is quite safe for swimming. After the swim one could walk up the direct access from the beach to the hotel and sip on a cool drink by our poolside and mesmerize in the cool breeze of the open Arabian sea.

What's so out of the ordinary at Bogmallo beach Resort?

Bogmallo Beach Resort in Goa is beautiful in itself. The hotel is right on the sea and as the waves lash the parapets of the open-air restaurant, the drone of the restless Arabian Sea lulls to sleep even the most insomniac. This is one attraction which all the tourists eagerly look forward to. The hotel is surrounded by a pair of palm fringed headlands, and the view from each and every room is one that gives you an entire picture of what Goa is all about. The dolphins splashing around in the water, the fishermen tugging on their nets, and the airplanes taking off from the runway are a few of the things that no other hotel in Goa can promise.
